FRANKFORT, FEBRUARY 9, 1884.

Laying of the Corner-Stone.

The ceremonies of laying the corner-stone of the Government Building, which were indefinitely postponed on 7th of January, on account of the extremely cold weather, took place Monday. Notwithstanding the weather was very damp, and the streets in a miserable condition, there was quite a large turn out of military, Firemen and of the Masonic fraternity.

Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn having declined to deliver the address on account of being a candidate for United States Senator, Lieutenant Governor Jas. R. Hindman very kindly consented to take its place, and well did he fill the position, as his remarks were loudly praised by all who could get near enough to hear them. By a mistake of the Committee of Arrangements Gov. Knott was not consulted before the time was fixed, and as he was compelled to be in Louisville on that day his place had to be filled by the Worshipful Master of Hiram Lodge.

A light rain began falling early in the morning and continued nearly all day, which led some to think that a "second postponement" should be had, but the committee in charge thought best to go on with the ceremonies, and about half past two o'clock in the afternoon the procession formed in St. Clair street, under direction of Col. J. Stoddard Johnson as Chief Marshal, assisted by Capt. Judge W. H. Saeed, J. W. Minam and J. L. Rodman, Jr., and Dr. J. L. Price in the following order:

1. Platoon of Police.
2. Frankfort Cornet Band.
3. McCrory Guards, Nuckolls Guards, Governor's Light Artillery, and Corps of Cadets from the Kentucky Military Institute.
4. Fire Department.
5. City Council in Carriages.
6. Frankfort Commandery, No. 4.
7. Hiram and Exotic Lodges.
8. Lieutenant Governor Hindman, orator of the occasion, and Rev. Dr. Morris Evans, acting Grand Chaplain, in carriage.

The procession moved east on Main to Ann; north on Ann to Broadway; west on Broadway to Washington; south on Washington to Wapping; east on Wapping to the Site of the building.

The streets about the building and the lot upon which it was located were densely packed with a large concourse of people who, notwithstanding the falling rain, had gathered there to witness the ceremonies, which were opened with a very appropriate prayer by the Grand Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Morris Evans. Hon. John L. Saeed, Acting Mayor, then delivered a short but eloquent address of welcome, after which the corner-stone was lowered into position, and Mr. Norman, who is in charge of the work, in a few appropriate remarks delivered up the tools to the acting Grand Master who laid the stone with the usual Masonic ceremonies. Next came Gov. Hindman's address, which, although gotten up on short notice, was very appropriate and loudly applauded. The ceremonies were then closed with the benediction by the Grand Chaplain and the large crowd dispersed.

During the ceremonies a salute of 35 guns was fired from the wharf by the Governor's Light Artillery, which made the hills ring with their deep intonations.

The turnout of Knights of Frankfort Commandery was very good, considering the weather, and they took the rain like old soldiers, although it played sad havoc with their plumes.

Notwithstanding the rain and mud Col. Allen brought in his corps of cadets to swell the procession and deserves the thanks of our citizens for doing so much toward making the parade a success.

Notwithstanding the heavy rains of the first of the week the river is falling slowly, and the inhabitants of the lower portion of the city are breathing easier. The thaw of last week brought up the river, but as there has been little or no rain in the Mountains since, the big flood predicted by some will hardly come this year.

Mr. James Greenup and Miss Kate Morris were married at the residence of the bride's parents, in South Frankfort, Thursday evening, by Elder George Darsie.

Mr. Ed. L. Meagher has been appointed Deputy City Marshal.

The ground hog saw his shadow on Saturday, and of course retired into his hole for six weeks longer.

Mr. Uri Williams, formerly of this city, writes from Savannah, Georgia, to have the Roundabout sent to him in that city. He spent the last summer in Texas and thinks he will go to New York the coming summer.

A number of the Masonic Fraternity of this city will visit W. F. Beard Lodge, at Bailey's Mill, in this county, this evening for the purpose of witnessing the conferring of the sublime degree of Master Mason upon Mr. Charley LeCompte.

The L. & N. Railroad will sell excursion tickets from this city to Cincinnati to enable all those who wish to attend the opera festival to do so at a small cost. The price for a round trip ticket from this city will be five dollars and they will be on sale from Monday until the 25th inst. They will be good going only one day after date of purchase, but will be good returning until the 25th.

With this number we issue a supplement, Dr. Harris' circular. Read it carefully. The Doctor graduated in the classics and medicine and was duly invested with the degree of A. B. A. M., and M. D., is a celebrated Electro-Therapist, and a practitioner of medicine has few equals; a gentleman of fine ability and rare culture. We have no hesitancy in saying to all suffering with disease, even if pronounced incurable, give Dr. Harris a trial and you will get relief or be cured.

George Dotson, a colored boy about 14 years of age, who resided with his grandmother on the Versailles pike, about a mile from the city, went hunting one day during Christmas week and was not again seen by his friends, who, supposing he had gone on a visit to his mother, who lives in Woodford county, thought nothing of his protracted absence. Saturday morning, while some boys were looking for a lost cow, they found his dead body in Mr. Henry Critcher's woods, on the Cove Hill. His gun lay by his side empty, with a hole in his head, showing how he had met his death. Portions of the head had been eaten away by birds or hogs, but otherwise the body was well preserved. Coroner McEwan was notified and held an inquest, when the jury returned a verdict of accidental shooting. We understand there are rumors of foul play, as some parties who went hunting with him have disappeared.

A lady who has recently been much annoyed by having amber spit upon her hearth or carpet, send us the following with the request that it be published:

Gentian root is said to be a tobacco antidote. Buy two ounces or more of the root carefully ground. Take as much of it after a meal, or often, as amounts to a quail of "blue-cut." Chew it slowly and swallow the juice. Continue this for a few weeks and you will conquer the insatiable appetite for tobacco, which injures both mind and body, and from which thousands struggle to be free, but give up in despair."

We have the statement of a veteran tobacco chewer, who has tried the above, to the effect, that so long as a person has the gentian root in his mouth there is no desire for tobacco, but as soon as that is thrown out the desire returns as strong as ever. He also says the use of the gentian gives one an appetite equal to a saw-mill. The only remedy for the use of tobacco is to swear off and stick to it, and we testify as an expert.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, the celebrated female lawyer and temperance lecturer, will deliver two lectures in this city next week under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. That prince of temperance lectures, our own Geo. W. Bain, writes us from Greenville, Pennsylvania, "Do all you can to have everybody hear Mrs. J. Ellen Foster. She is one of the best in America." The Courier-Journal of Monday has this to say of her:

It is gifted lawyer, of New England stock, comes by her love for the temperance cause through inheritance, her father having been a total abstainer from his boyhood. Her education was carried on in Boston and New York under the care of a sister until such time as she could teach. For many years her home has been in Clinton, Iowa, where, at the suggestion of her husband, she took up the study of the law, and was afterward admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of her State. From the time of the crusade movement in Ohio in 1873, Mrs. Foster has been heart and hand allied with the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and has spoken through most of the States in behalf of legislation as a remedy for intemperance. Next Friday night Mrs. Foster will deliver her famous lecture upon "Constitutional Prohibition" at the Warren Memorial Presbyterian Church, and afterward have a reception in the lecture-room of the church, to which all our citizens are cordially invited.

Sugar, Coffee, Tea, Soap, Starch at Banta's.

Mr. Wm. Critch sold last week to Mr. Tom Wells, of Lawrenceburg, a fine Jersey cow for $80.

The Tit for Tat Club will meet with Mrs. I. P. Tarleton, at Fleetwood Farm, on Monday evening.

Capt. Buck Jenkins, who has been quite ill from his Arkansas hunting expedition, is about well again.

Mr. Levi T. Critcher, one of the oldest citizens of this county, being ill at his residence near Jones Station.

Mrs. Nelson Chesman, who has been visiting Mrs. L. R. Warren, returned to her home in St. Louis on Monday.

Mr. Jessie Franklin is still lying very ill at the residence of his son, Mr. Walter Franklin, in South Frankfort.

Mr. Bragg Wilson, of Lexington, who has been visiting the family of Mr. A. V. Cronwell, returned home Saturday morning.

Mr. John Kears, of Leipzig, Germany, is in the city looking around with a view to purchasing land in this section.

Mrs. Wm. M. Saffell returned Saturday from Washington City, where she has been visiting Mrs. John G. Carlisle for several weeks.

Mrs. Alex. McPherson and son, of Jeffersonville, Indiana, are visiting her parents, Mr. F. D. R. Alish and wife South Side.

Rev. J. B. Tharp, Superintendent of the the Masonic Widows and Orphans' Home, Louisville, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in the city.

Mrs. Wallace and daughter, of Indiana, are visiting the family of Mr. Walter Franklin, having been called to the bedside of Mr. Jessie Franklin, father of the former.

Obituary.

DIED.—Near Peak's Mill, February 4th, Mrs. MOLLIE E. WINTER, wife of Mr. James Winter, in the 44th year of her age. Deceased was a lady of amiable disposition, whom none knew but to love. She was a consistent member of the Bethel Baptist Church. She leaves a large family, who deeply feel their loss, and to whom many friends offer their sincerest sympathies. None knew that death was so near until she was in its embrace. Grief so suddenly from their midst, gone where the shadows of earth cannot come. She leaves behind her many deeds of Christian work which stand bright and beautiful to woe those she has left behind to that bright world above.

Weep not for her that dieth,
For she sleeps and is at rest,
And the couch whereon she lay
Is the green earth's quiet breast.

Weep not for her that dieth,
For her struggling soul is free,
And the world from which it fleeth
Is a world of misery.

BORN.

In this city, on Tuesday, February 5th, to Mr. W. S. Saffell and wife a son — JAMES DALLAS.

In Louisville, Feb. 24, to Mr. C. Ed. Wiggins and wife, a son.

Choice Family Land. 25 pounds or more, 10 cents per pound at Crutcher & Stephens.

Mrs. Mollie Winter, wife of James Winter, Esq., died suddenly at her home near Penk's Mill Monday.

Mr. Chas. LeCompte has sold out his store at Polsgrove, this county, and has removed to this city to reside.

The Fannie Fresser started down the river Monday but could not get under the Railroad bridge, but on Tuesday succeeded in getting away.

Mr. M. H. P. Williams, Jr., is announced in this issue as a candidate for City Marshal. Having made a first-class Deputy Sheriff he certainly will make a good officer, if elected.

The congregational singing of the Presbyterian Church is now led by a cornet and is able greatly to the music. Mr. Snider performs upon the instrument in an artistic manner.

The annual meeting of the Kentucky Historical Society will be held in the Hall of the House of Representatives on Monday evening at 7 o'clock, and will be addressed by Hon. C. U. McElroy, of Bowling Green.

There was a large crowd in town Monday, the streets at the intersection of Main and St. Clair being completely blocked with those who came in to attend court. The auctioneers were on hand but very few sales were made.

After three weeks' labor and seventy-three ballots the Democratic caucus of the Legislature on Tuesday night nominated Hon. Joseph C. Stiles Blackburn as a candidate for United States Senator, and at 12 o'clock on Wednesday he was elected to that position by the two Houses of the General Assembly in joint session.

The L. & N. Railroad will as usual sell excursion tickets to the Mardi Gras festivities at New Orleans and Mobile. The rates from this city will be to New Orleans and return $22.45 and to Mobile $20.35. The tickets will be on sale from the 20th to the 24th of February, and will be good until March 20th. Pullman Buffet Sleeping cars will run from Louisville and Cincinnati.

The Commissioner of Agriculture, Hon. John F. Davis, will give a corn show at his office in this city on the 25th of February. The following premiums will be offered: For white corn, yellow corn, bread corn, puffed or mixed corn, first premium $15, second premiums $10. Best sample hominy corn $15. Each sample must be sent in a separate package, marked with name of exhibitor and the variety, and to contain not less than thirty ears.

One of the finest hands of White Burley tobacco we have seen this year was presented to us on Tuesday by Mr. Alexander Quire, as raised by him on the North Fork of North Benson Creek. It is about the finest raised in the county, and it can be beaten by any body else we would like to try to bring it in for us to examine.

Since the above was in type Mr. F. M. Conway has brought in two hands of as pretty Burley as one would want to see, and if we were a judge we would say they rather lay over Mr. Quire's. Mr. Conway raised a splendid crop last season of the same kind and his sample was awarded the premium in Mr. Burk Keenon's exhibition last spring. The hands brought in are prettier, if anything than the one he took the ribbon on.

In this connection we will say that we will give a premium of two dollars for the best sample (one hand) of tobacco of any kind raised in Franklin county, brought in before the first Monday in April and one year's subscription to the Roundabout for the next best, the award to be made by competent judges on that day.

Finest Canned Corn in the city at Banta's.

J. Watt Stephens, of the firm of Crutcher & Stephens, has just sent one of their beautiful rolled roasts to a customer at St. Louis, Mo. They send their "pure pork sausage" daily to Louisville, Eminence, Midway, Lexington and Lawrenceburg. It is the best and the people will have it.

Removal.

Drs. Hudson & Bryant have removed their office from the old Strobridge residence to the building next to Messrs. W. A. Gaines & Co's. warehouse, on Main street.

Frederick Warde, the celebrated young tragedian, who made such a favorable impression upon our people two years ago, will again appear at the Opera House in this city on the 13th, 14th and 15th of this month. The following notice of him is taken from a recent issue of one of the New York dailies:

The regular season at the Opera House was auspiciously opened last night. The entrances to the house and the main lobby were given quite a tropical appearance by an artistic display of artificial flowers as natural as nature, which captivated the audience immediately upon entering and prepared them to give Mr. Frederick Warde a cordial reception.

If the repertoire of this actor did not include a full round of Slinkerspin characters, but was limited to "Virginia" alone, his interpretation of that alone would give him place among the great actors of America.

In this character he cannot fail to be compared with McCallough, and he will bear the comparison well. In the definition of his rugged, rugged McCallough touches on height which Warde does not easily reach, yet in the very exuberance of his passion he is sufficiently self-contained to avoid that ranting which sometimes mars the genuineness of the work of his great contemporary. Not to carry the contrast to the point of inviolability, it still remains to be said that his pathos is permeated by a virility that never approaches the border line of weakness, and it never failed last night to elicit a responsive emotion in his audience.

The story of "Virginia" has been too often told to hour recital here; it is sufficient to say that the titular character gives place to every sentiment of the human heart, and the portrayal of each and all of them. Mr. Warde proved himself a master. He sweeps rather an eclectic than the direct of any of the so-called schools and to the full rounding of his abilities he has drawn the better elements of all, while happily escaping the mannerisms of any.

Miss Anna Boyle, as Virginia, very deservedly shared the honors of the evening. Of beautiful face, graceful form, and with an exquisitely modulated voice she made an ideal Virginia. She can sing sweetly in modesty with a charming absence of self-consciousness, girlish joy without a semblance of silliness, and womanly grief and shame without that hysterical impress that has marred the modern emotional actress exasperation.

The performance in other respects was smooth enough, but with such an inspiration before him Mr. Malone, as John, really ought to be less mechanical in his love-making.

On Wednesday evening he will appear as Virginia, on Thursday as Richelieu, and on Friday as Richard III.

Old Fashioned Black-eyed Peas at Banta's.

IN MEMORIAM.

Sir Austin J. Kendall.

To the Emancipated Commander Officers and Members of Frankfort Commandery, No. 4, K. T.

Your committee, appointed to report suitable resolutions upon the death of our frater, SIR AUSTIN J. KENDALL, of Frankfort Commandery, No. 4, beg leave to submit the following:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Grand Commander of the universe to remove by death, on the eighth day of January, 1884, our friend and frater, Sir Austin J. Kendall; and whereas, whilst we bow with humble submission to the supreme will of our divine Commander, we will cherish the memory of our departed frater for the many virtues he possessed; therefore, be it

Resolved, first, That in the death of Sir Knight Kendall the Commandery has lost a true, courteous, and magnanimous member, who was devoted to, and ever ready to defend the principles of the order, of which it was his pride and boast that he was an honored and respected member.

2d. That we deeply deplore his death, and extend our tenderest sympathies to the bereaved family.

3d. That a memorial page be set aside in the record book of this Commandery, with a suitable inscription thereon.

4th. That these resolutions be spread upon our record book, a copy be sent to the family of our deceased frater, and they be published in the city papers.

FRANK G. MONTGOMERY,
F. C. HUGHES,
W. S. DEHONEY,

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Between the Bridges.

We feel somewhat discouraged, as last week's letter was the second one that failed to reach the editor in time for publication, but knowing that it was neither our fault nor the editor's we make one more effort.

There seems to be a kind of magnet located between the bridges that has such a powerful attracting capacity that the young men are drawn from Alton, Clayville, and even Bardonia by its wonderful influence. Graceland boys, can't we rout them and some of our captives here?

Mr. Thos L. Thacker and wife, of Mercer county, are visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity this week.

Why does Job stay away so long? If he don't soon return and claim his rights that young mill roller will have his girl and gone with her.

Two Misses Wiggs, Miss Jennie Darlington, and Miss Little Storie were the guests of Mrs. Lizzie Blythe Wednesday.

Mrs. Tenie Thomas of Shelby county, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Ben. Elliott, at this vicinity, for the last two weeks.

Mr. George E. Richardson, of Taylor county, has been visiting his cousin, Mrs. Frank Hackley, this week.

Success to the new firm of Johnson and Wilmut.

Tolu and Taffy, hold your tongue. We want to tell about the new store.

T. B. Johnson has bought a one half interest in the dry goods store of R. H. Wilmut, and he contemplates running a drag and dry goods store combined. Won't that be nice? Dr. J. R. Johnson will prescribe and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmut will measure off the calico.

Mrs. George Stillwell, of Hinewalla, Kansas, is the guest of Mrs. T. B. Johnson this week.

We are informed that the patrons of the Hardinsville school have secured the services of Prof. Carter for another term and the school will begin next Monday, Feb. 4, 1884. Now, patrons, let us do our duty and try to give a good school, and we think the Prof. will give us a grand entertainment at the close of his school in May or June.

It is a remarkable fact that every one who stops at our town for any length of time is sure to fall in love with the place or some of its inhabitants, and will frequently return to see us again. For instance, Mr. George Hughes, of Bardonia, spent several weeks here during last summer, and was so well pleased, either with the town or somebody's daughter, that he has been back several times since. He was in our midst last week and spent several days. He looks well and seemed to be in fine spirits. George is certainly a tip-top fellow, and we are always glad to meet him, and when we go to Bardonia we will be sure to stop at his, the Central Hotel.

That bird story. Mr. W. R. Magruder is responsible for the following, and we know it is true for he was an eye witness, and his word is as good as any man's in the county. Philip French had his gun loaded with a half shot of oil, rebounded, and killed eleven birds at one shot. That buys Mr. Joe Terry, the champion bird hunter, in the shade, and we are not sure that he is not in need of a second. Continue to promise, Philip, and there is no telling what miracle you may perform yet in the dim future.

PENCK AND JEDY.

FEBRUARY 7, 1884.

Well, well, Judy has gone and left us to do the writing this week, but we know we can never fill her place as correspondent, however, as we wish to keep the ball rolling, we will furnish you a few items. The ladies of this vicinity will visit occasionally and so will the men.

Miss Little Storie and Misses Aline and Laura Wiggs were the guests of Miss Jennie Darlington last Tuesday. Where were Johnny and the Eldies?

Three of Shelby county's young gents were in our town Sunday night and entertained quite a number of our boys for an hour or two with their jests and witticisms. Call again, boys; we'll be glad to meet you.

Boys, don't forget the masquerade to be given at the Alton Hotel, February 14. The girls will all be there.

Dr. J. C. Gibbs, of Camden, Anderson county, is in this vicinity visiting his brother and nephew, Julian and Thomas Gibbs, who have been very sick for several weeks.

Mrs. Richard Shields, of Shelbyville, has been visiting relatives in this vicinity for several days.

Mr. James Alley, former resident of this place but now a resident of the city of Louisville, is in our community visiting friends and relatives this week.

There were quite a number of young ladies and gentlemen at Mrs. Frank Hackley's Saturday evening and all seemed to be enjoying themselves nicely. The young ladies present were Misses Aline and Laura Wiggs, Miss Jennie Darlington, Miss Mattie Richardson, of Taylor county, and Miss Jennie Kagan, of Alton, Anderson county. The young men were two Messrs. Collins, Mr. Geo. McKen, of Alton, and Prof. Carter, of Greensburg.

Miss Florence Collins, who has been visiting friends and relatives in this neighborhood, left for her home Tuesday morning, accompanied by Miss Lella Tinsley, who will spend the week with Miss Florence. We wish them pleasure to the fullest extent of their capacity for enjoyment (which we know to be abundant), and only regret that we cannot be with them.

The correspondents of the ROUNDABOUT came near having to put on the badge of mourning a few days since, for one of our brother correspondents, Tolu and Taffy, was badly hurt by a log about forty feet long falling on him from the top of a barn. He was attempting to remove or alter it when the log fell and caught him under it, dislocating his shoulder and bruising his head and body to considerable extent.

Tolu and Taffy have our sympathy and we are proud to say that he will soon be able to resume his task as our Greensburg correspondent.

The key has been found at last and the dead lock in the legislative halls opened, and out of it spring a U. S. Senator in the person of the Hon. Joe Blackburn. While our sympathies were with our old friend C. G. W., we never really to say amen to the action of our party, especially when it selects for us as true and long tried standard bearer as J. C. S. H.

PENCK.

Point Pleasant.

Mud and rain, then rain and mud, but every one knows its rain and mud.

Mr. Robt. Owen visited Louisville last week.

Miss Willie Belle Peters, of Scabille, Shelby county, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. R. J. Shannon, this week.

Luke Wallace, the youngest son of Mr. Charles Wallace, had the misfortune to get his arm broken. He and an older brother were riding horseback when he fell off and was thrown off, and the injury received, but it is at this writing doing well. The bone was set by Doctor Edings, of Dahl Knob.

R. J. Shannon and wife visited Mrs. S. H. father, near Scabille, the first of the week.

John Rossell has made his appearance again and looks as pleasing as a basket of fruit. He is still a candidate for matrimony.

Bill Snow says he is afraid no one will take his proposition as they may think he is joking; but he is in hard earnest.

Mr. Gayhart has moved out of the Toll house into Mr. William Snow's house.

Rusty Cuss is not certain what he will do now, whether he will follow huckstering, farming, selling goods or trade for the home mill again.

HAWK EYE.

Harvieland.

Mrs. Jasper Dalton is on the sick list this week.

Mr. Tom McQuillan, who was kicked on the leg by a horse, is improving.

Mr. Curren Moore's youngest child, little Selbert, is sick with diphtheria.

Mr. Nat. McDaniel and wife, of Belle Point, were the guests of Mr. Jasper Dalton and wife Sunday.

Mr. Robt. Edgington and wife, of Henry county, are visiting Mr. Robt. Penn and wife this week.

Mrs. Louis Moore has sold her entire crop of tobacco to Messrs. Sullivan & Co. for 14 cents per pound.

Born.—Near this place, on Monday, Jan. 25th, 1884, to Mr. Nathan Moore and wife, a daughter. Her name is Mary.

Our little town is in a flourishing condition. It contains two groceries and dry goods stores, post-office and blacksmith shop.

CLINKER.

Turkish and French Prunes, Dates and Figs at Banta's.

Belle Point.

Dr. Deakin, of Sweet Home, visited his parents here last week.

Mr. David Allison and family are keeping house for Mr. Robt. Sanford.

Judge Pence and wife went on a pleasure trip to Lexington last Saturday.

Our County Attorney, Jas. A. Violett is confined to his bed with sickness this week.

Mr. Ed. Brewster has rented the Livery and Feed Stable of Major F. P. Lewis, on Benson Avenue.

Miss Nannie Booker, who has been visiting Miss Lena Rogers, left for her home in Eminence Friday morning.

The Fannie Freese is at our wharf. The river was too high for her to go on for a portion of the week. She transferred her freight to the Harper there and came back.

The singing at Major F. P. Lewis' Thursday evening was the best we have had this season, both as regards music and attendance.

The next meeting will be at Mr. Alex. Ruler's on next Thursday evening. Every one invited.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Bagdad, Jacksonville and St. Johns Turnpike road company, held in Major Lewis' store last week, Judge W. L. Pence was elected President and Wm. Brant Secretary. This pike, when built, will be of great benefit to our town, as it is the most direct route from here to Sherrillsburg. It leaves the Flat Creek pike at Money Grove, goes by St. John's Church in the Wilderness, and thence to Jacksonville, where it will intersect the Shelbyville and Bagdad pike, now in construction. This route will run through the best tobacco country in Franklin county and should be encouraged by our business men. Already large subscriptions have been given and it is an assured success.

Flag Fork.

Plenty of mud and still raining.

Rusty Cuss was in our town this week hunting loaves.

Messrs. Downey and Walkins sold their crop of tobacco to the Farmer's Warehouse, Louisville, last Saturday, for $19.75, $19.15, $13.75, $9.00 per hundred.

Mr. John W. Gaines, of Belle Point, candidate for sheriff, paid our town a visit last week, looking after his interests in the sheriff's race.

Deputy Sheriff W. P. Scott was around shaking hands with some of the boys last week. W. P. has many warm friends in this section of the county.

Judge C. V. Baily will start to Kannan about the first of March.

C. L. Quire closed his school last Thursday, after which Mr. James P. Hallett delivered a very appropriate address on education and the benefits of a common school education.

Dr. Austin, after several days' visit to relatives at Chestnut Grove, Shelby county, returned home last week.

Miss Letha Harrod, of Buford Town, is visiting the family of Mr. V. M. Poole this week.

Mr. John Aldridge, who has been quite sick for the past two or three weeks, is steadily improving.

The grim gale of tempests stalked into our midst last Saturday morning and claimed for his own a little son of our fellow townsman V. M. Poole. Though but nine months old, little Charley had developed such traits of character as to win a place in the hearts of all who knew him. He was the joy and pride of the household, but he who ruled all things deemed it best that he should taste none of earth's sorrows, hence he was called to his home above, there to be a jewel bright in the crown of Him who hath said unto little children to come unto me for of such is the kingdom of heaven. Rev. J. A. Peters preached an appropriate funeral discourse in the Baptist Church Sunday morning, after which a large concourse of sympathizing friends and relatives followed the remains to their last resting place at Lebanon.

Beech Ridge.

On hearing that Broomestick had expired, and having taken an interest in your little paper, we will continue its column, just by saying that you must not expect much in our first episode, as we have very recently concluded to write, and of course we have not tried to gather much news for this issue. We think if Toga can afford two correspondents we certainly think Broomestick ought to have a substitute, for he has taken to himself a helpmeet of two hundred and forty pounds.

Our section is in a flourishing condition considering the weather. We have had a fine time for sleighing.

Tobacco is bringing quite a handsome price in this vicinity. Messrs. J. D. Lee and Willie Bryan have shipped and received a good price, but look out for a handsome price when Messrs. Vester Whitman and Louis E. Lee ship. We think it will be the horse crop of the Ridge.

We understand Mr. William Perkins contemplates going to Alabama to preach. If we are properly informed, William may peace go with you and joy follow after you.

Mr. John C. B. Lee has purchased a tract of land of forty acres adjoining his farm, finely timbered, all of which he will sell for twenty dollars an acre.

We understand that Mr. Vester Whitman says if he don't marry this year he does not expect to stay here or anywhere else. We think he will hold his present post.

Hoping that you will grant us space for our first attempt, we will try and do better in our next.

TOTEN MR. NOR.

Toga.

An editor's work, like a woman's, is never done. There is no time he can call his own, if he puts his whole soul and energy into his work. No sooner is the week's news all gathered in and the paper made up than he must go forth again and see what kind of nut time he can pick up for the next issue, or put on his studying cap and see if he can't put a little extra seasoning in a portion of the regular bill of fare and call it by a new name. The newspaper patron shouldn't forget that the editor is a man like themselves, that he isn't always stuffed full and boiling over with wit.

Lookout for a valentine.

The election is all the talk.

Mr. Ben. Rogers attended Lebanon Church last Saturday.

Shall I heretafter turn your stockings? 's said to be the fashionable language for a young lady to use when making a leap year proposal.

Last Saturday night a number of young ladies and ladies met at Mr. Henry Hallett's to have a sing, but after they all arrived they changed the programme and had a game of Bowler.

Life's pathway is strewn with pitfalls for the unwary feet of the adolescent youth of this world. Very few young men are able to pass the downy lip period of life without sleeping heads over heels in the masked molasses puddle of puppy love.

$400 REWARD!

The Game Law goes into effect on the 1st of February, and any person who catches, kills or offers for sale any Partridge, Pheasant, Woodcock, Rabbit or Squirrel after that date is liable to a fine of Three Dollars For Each Offense.

It is believed that on account of the extremely cold weather and continued snows most all game has been killed, and in order to protect what is left from Hawks I have concluded to offer as a reward to the man or boy who will kill and bring me the heads of the largest number of Chicken, Blue-wing or Sparrow Hawks, before the 1st of next May, a

DOUBLE-BARRELED BREECH-LOADING

SHOT-GUN!

WORTH FORTY DOLLARS.

This gun will not be given unless some competition is excited and at least fifty Hawks in all are killed by the time named, and all killed within fifteen miles of Frankfort. The Gun will be on exhibition at my store, on the corner of Main and St. Clair streets, where I have for sale a stock of Fancy Groceries, Fruits, Vegetables, Ammunition and News Matter, which will be sold at bottom prices for cash. Mr. J. B. Dryden is in charge of the business and will give you his best attention.
